A visit to Bateman's (NT), Burwash, East Sussex, TN19 7DS and Great Dixter House & Gardens, Rye, East Sussex, TN31 6PH

Bateman's Gardens cover 12 acres in Sussex, combining formal elements with natural features. Created by Rudyard Kipling, they include a rose garden, wildflower meadows, a working watermill, an orchard, a lily pond, and a cutting garden. The woodland trails and riverside paths highlight Kipling's appreciation for nature and storytelling. The gardens' layout reflects his vision of a poetic and productive English retreat.

Great Dixter Gardens is a renowned English garden, designed by Christopher Lloyd, situated around a medieval manor. It combines formal topiary with naturalistic plantings and features mixed borders, meadows, and a sunken garden. The garden prioritises seasonal interest and bold planting schemes, framed by yew hedges, paths, and terraces. Lloyd's influence endures through innovative designs and educational programs, making Great Dixter a source of inspiration for gardeners worldwide.
